1. Policy Statement

This policy applies to anyone working for or on behalf of Enlighten Learning Trust (ELT) including the board of trustees, paid staff, volunteers, sessional workers, agency staff and students. Its purpose is to protect and enhance the safety and well-being of all children and young people by actively promoting awareness, good practice and sound procedures.

We believe the safety and well-being of children and young people is of the utmost importance and that they have a fundamental and equal right to be protected from harm regardless of age, disability, gender reassignment, race, religion or belief, sex, or sexual orientation. We recognise our statutory responsibility for safeguarding: the safety, protection and well-being of all children and young people that the Trust supports and interacts with, is paramount and has priority over all other interests. This includes responding immediately and appropriately where there is a suspicion that any young person under the age of 18 years old may be a victim of abuse, exploitation or neglect.

'Young Person' means those under 18 years old including all of those up to their 18th birthday- as designated a 'child' within the terms of the Children's Act 1989.

The Trust Board and Local Governing Bodies of ELT are committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people and expect all staff and volunteers to share this commitment. Our academies are safe places for children, where our responsibilities for safeguarding children are taken seriously. ELT fully adopts Keeping Children Safe in Education 2026 (KCSIE 2026), which comes into force on 1 September 2026, and takes seriously its responsibility under section 175/157 of the Education Act 2002 to safeguard and promote the welfare of children. We work with partner agencies to identify, assess and support children who are suffering harm or are at risk of suffering harm. This includes risks that occur within and outside the home and online. [\[assets.pub...ice.gov.uk\]](https://assets.publishing.service.gov.uk/government/uploads/system/uploads/attachment_data/file/106533/Keeping_Children_Safe_in_Education_2026.pdf)

Safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children is defined as:

- providing help and support to meet the needs of children as soon as problems emerge;
- protecting children from maltreatment, whether occurring inside or outside the home, including online;
- preventing impairment of children's mental and physical health or development;
- ensuring children grow up in circumstances consistent with the provision of safe and effective care; and
- taking action to enable all children to achieve the best outcomes.

This policy is underpinned by Keeping Children Safe in Education 2026, Working Together to Safeguard Children and Surrey Safeguarding Children Partnership procedures.

The Trustee with responsibility for Safeguarding is Mr Hugh Betterton, who can be contacted by email at hbetterton@enlightenlt.education.

The Trust encourages a culture of listening to and engaging in dialogue, with children seeking their views in ways that are appropriate to their age, culture and understanding.

All Trust Schools have a Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL) who is expected to understand and implement their role as required by Keeping Children Safe in Education 2026 (Appendix C of KCSIE).

All Trust schools use CPOMs for efficient and effective recording and management of safeguarding records.

This policy has been drawn up based on legislation, policy and guidance that seeks to protect children in England including the Children's Act 2004 and Working together to safeguard children 2023: statutory guidance The latter providing the key statutory guidance for anyone working with children and young people.

All procedures and policies pertaining to safeguarding are regularly reviewed and updated on an annual basis.

2. Organisational Responsibilities

The Trust is responsible for the implementation of the Safeguarding Policy and delegates operational responsibility to the DSL within each school to manage the Safeguarding Policy and its implementation.

It is the responsibility of the DSL to take and document (on CPOMS) appropriate action following any expression of concern and make referrals to the appropriate agency.

The Trust will ensure that the DSL participates in regular safeguarding training on an annual basis so that they are aware of the procedures of identifying and reporting suspected cases of abuse, exploitation and neglect and are up to date with any legal changes.

All staff/volunteers will be made aware of this Safeguarding Policy and related relevant procedures as part of their induction and their contract of employment. All staff are expected to acknowledge that they have read and understood KCSIE part one.

All staff, including those who do not work directly with children, will be provided with Part One of KCSIE 2026 and are required to read and understand it as part of induction and annually thereafter.

Relevant staff will also receive:

- the Safeguarding Policy;
- Behaviour Policy;
- Staff Code of Conduct;
- safeguarding procedures relating to children who are absent from education; and
- information regarding the role and identity of the Designated Safeguarding Lead and Deputy Designated Safeguarding Leads.

The Trust will ensure appropriate mechanisms are in place to support staff in understanding and discharging their safeguarding responsibilities.

The Trust will work in accordance with guidance and good practice from the Surrey Safeguarding Children Partnership. More information can be found at: Surrey Safeguarding Children Partnership \(surreyscp.org.uk\)

2.1 Designated Safeguarding Leads Responsibilities

Each school's DSLs (and DDSLs) must have an active and working knowledge of KCSIE and refer to this to guide and inform safeguarding practice.

Each DSL will ensure that all members of staff/volunteers have timely and relevant safeguarding training and that all members of staff make effective and timely use of CPOMS as our reporting mechanism.

They will ensure that they, and all DDSLs, have read and confirmed understanding of the role of DSL as contained within KCSIE. They use the Trust DSL annual safeguarding planner to guide actions during the academic year.

They will ensure that procedures are in place to keep children safe during community activities, after-school clubs and tuition by adhering to the non-statutory guidance for providers running out of school settings.

They will ensure that the school website contains a page explaining how the school safeguards children.

Training for the DSL should be accessed from Surrey Safeguarding Children Partnership. Staff and volunteers can also access a range of multi-agency safeguarding training. More information can be found here; Surrey Children's Services Academy \(SCSA\) - Surrey County Council \(surreycc.gov.uk\)

The DSL will take appropriate action following any expression of concern, disclosure or reported incident and make referrals to the appropriate agency.

DSLs work with appropriate curriculum leads to ensure that Relationships, Sex and Health Education is taught proactively and delivered in line with statutory guidance. Where a scheme of work is being used, appropriate leaders must ensure that coverage within the scheme reflects that in the statutory guidance. If required, additional provisions should be put in place to deliver context specific content not covered by the scheme so that children are taught how to keep themselves and others safe.

2.2 Staff and Volunteer Responsibilities

Any new member of staff or volunteer with direct contact with young people will be taken through this policy as part of the induction process and offered training soon after commencing their post. All staff and volunteers are to participate in timely and relevant training.

All staff have a duty to ensure that any suspected incident, allegation, or other manifestation relating to child protection is reported using the procedures detailed below in this policy.

If in any doubt about what action to take, employees must seek advice from one of the named Safeguarding Leads or in their absence the School's Head Teacher or the CEO.

3. Abuse, Neglect and Exploitation

All staff should be aware of the indicators of abuse, neglect and exploitation, understanding that children can be at risk of harm inside and outside of the school, inside and outside of home, and online. Exercising professional curiosity and knowing what to look for is vital for the early identification of abuse and neglect so that staff can identify cases of children who may be in need of help or protection.

All school staff should be aware that abuse, neglect, exploitation, and safeguarding issues are rarely standalone events and cannot be covered by one definition or one label alone. In most cases, multiple issues will overlap.

All staff should be aware that mental health problems can, in some cases, be an indicator that a child has suffered or is at risk of suffering abuse, neglect or exploitation. Staff are well placed to observe children day-to-day and identify those whose behaviour suggests they may be experiencing a mental health problem. Where staff have a mental health concern about a child that is also a safeguarding concern, they should take immediate action by speaking to the DSL or a deputy. Schools should ensure that appropriate support is in place, including liaison with mental health professionals and external agencies where necessary.

All staff should be prepared to identify children and families who may benefit from Family Help. Family Help means providing support as soon as a problem emerges at any stage in a child's life. Staff should be alert to children whose needs may require additional support and should share concerns promptly with the DSL or Deputy DSL so that appropriate intervention can be considered. Support may include universal services, community-based support, targeted Family Help or statutory intervention depending upon the child's circumstances and assessed level of need.

Staff should be aware that repeated or prolonged absence from school is also a possible safeguarding indicator, not merely an attendance matter.

All staff, but especially the designated safeguarding lead (and deputies) should consider whether children are at risk of abuse or exploitation in situations outside their families. Extra-familial harms take a variety of different forms and children can be vulnerable to multiple harms including (but not limited to) sexual abuse (including harassment and exploitation), domestic abuse in their own intimate relationships (teenage relationship abuse), criminal exploitation, serious youth violence, county lines and radicalisation.

3.1 Online Safety

Online safety is a running and interrelated theme throughout all safeguarding practice.

The Trust recognises that children may be exposed to risks online which include:

- harmful content;
- harmful contact;
- harmful conduct;
- online commerce risks;
- misinformation and disinformation;
- conspiracy theories;
- radicalising content;
- online bullying and harassment;
- sexually harmful behaviour;
- AI-generated or digitally altered content and images.

Children may experience abuse online, face-to-face, or through a combination of both.

Schools will maintain appropriate filtering and monitoring systems. Their effectiveness will be reviewed, documented and reported annually. Staff will understand their individual responsibilities in relation to filtering and monitoring arrangements and will receive appropriate training. Pupils will be taught how to keep themselves safe online, including understanding the risks associated with generative artificial intelligence (AI), social media, mobile devices, image sharing, misinformation and disinformation.

3.2 Vulnerable Groups

The Trust recognises that some children may be at greater risk of harm or may face additional barriers to recognising, reporting or disclosing abuse.

This includes, but is not limited to:

- children with SEND;
- children with medical conditions;

- children requiring mental health support;
- children with a social worker;
- looked after and previously looked after children;
- children in kinship care;
- young carers;
- children who are electively home educated;
- children attending alternative provision;
- children who are absent from education;
- children who are lesbian, gay or bisexual;
- children who are questioning their gender;
- refugees, asylum seekers and unaccompanied children.

Staff should be aware that these children may require additional support and greater professional curiosity to identify safeguarding concerns. Risk assessments, support plans and safeguarding interventions should reflect individual needs.

Staff need to be aware that additional barriers can exist when recognising abuse, neglect and exploitation in this groups of children including:

- assumptions that indicators of possible abuse such as behaviour, mood and injury relate to the child's condition without further exploration
- these children being more prone to peer group isolation or bullying (including prejudice-based bullying) than other children
- the potential for children with SEND or certain medical conditions being disproportionately affected by behaviours such as bullying, without outwardly showing any signs
- communication barriers and difficulties in managing or reporting these challenges
- cognitive understanding – being unable to understand the difference between fact and fiction in online content and then repeating the content/behaviours in schools or colleges or the consequences of doing so.

Any reports of abuse involving children with SEND will require close liaison with the DSL and SENCO.

3.2A Children Requiring Mental Health Support

Mental health concerns can, in some cases, indicate that a child has suffered or is at risk of suffering abuse, neglect or exploitation. Staff should not attempt to diagnose mental health conditions, but they should be alert to behaviours which may suggest that a child requires support or intervention. Where a mental health concern is also a safeguarding concern, staff must report the issue immediately to the DSL or a Deputy DSL. Schools should work collaboratively with parents, carers, health professionals and external agencies to ensure appropriate support is provided.

3.3 Indicators of Abuse and Neglect

(taken directly from Keeping Children Safe in Education 2026)

Abuse: a form of maltreatment of a child. Somebody may abuse or neglect a child by inflicting harm or by failing to act to prevent harm. Harm can include ill treatment that is not physical as well as the impact of witnessing ill treatment of others. This can be particularly relevant, for example, in relation to the impact on children of all forms of domestic abuse, including where they see, hear or experience its effects. Children may be abused in a family or in an institutional or community setting by those known to them or, more rarely, by others. Abuse can take place wholly online, or technology may be used to facilitate offline abuse. Children may be abused by an adult or adults or by another child or children.

Physical abuse: a form of abuse which may involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning or scalding, drowning, suffocating or otherwise causing physical harm to a child. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer fabricates the symptoms of, or deliberately induces, illness in a child.

Emotional abuse: the persistent emotional maltreatment of a child such as to cause severe and adverse effects on the child's emotional development. It may involve conveying to a child that they are worthless or unloved, inadequate, or valued only insofar as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning or preventing the child from participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve serious bullying (including cyberbullying), causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of maltreatment of a child, although it may occur alone.

Sexual abuse: involves forcing or enticing a child or young person to take part in sexual activities, not necessarily involving violence, whether or not the child is aware of what is happening. The activities may involve physical contact, including assault by penetration (for example rape or oral sex) or non-penetrative acts such as masturbation, kissing, rubbing, and touching outside of clothing. They may also include non-contact activities, such as involving children in looking at, or in the production of, sexual images, watching sexual activities, encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways, or grooming a child in preparation for abuse. Sexual abuse can take place online, and technology can be used to facilitate offline abuse. Sexual abuse is not solely perpetrated by adult males. Women can also commit acts of sexual abuse, as can other children. The sexual abuse of children by other children is a specific safeguarding issue in education. Our schools use The Brook Traffic Light Tool (see below) to categorise the sexual behaviours of young people and help professionals:

Guide and make decisions about safeguarding children and young people.

Assess and respond appropriately to sexual behaviour in children and young people.

Understand healthy sexual development and distinguish it from harmful behaviour.

By categorising sexual behaviours, we can work with other agencies to the same standardised criteria when making decisions and can protect children and young people with a multi-agency approach.

Neglect: the persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs, likely to result in the serious impairment of the child's health or development. Neglect may occur during pregnancy, for example, as a result of maternal substance abuse. Once a child is born, neglect may involve a parent or carer failing to: provide adequate food, clothing and shelter (including exclusion from home or abandonment); protect a child from physical and emotional harm or danger; ensure adequate supervision (including the use of inadequate caregivers); or ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment. It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional needs.

Safeguarding issues: All staff should have an awareness of safeguarding issues that can put children at risk of harm. Behaviours linked to issues such as drug taking and/or alcohol misuse, unexplainable and/or persistent absences from education, serious violence (including that linked to county lines), radicalisation and consensual and non-consensual sharing of nude and semi-nude images and/or videos can be signs that children are at risk. Any incidences of these that happen in school should be referred immediately to the safeguarding team who will triage the issue and decide the most effective course of action.

Safeguarding concerns may also include:

- repeated or prolonged absence from education;
- modern slavery;
- financial exploitation;
- child criminal exploitation;
- child sexual exploitation;
- child-on-parent or child-on-carer abuse;
- exposure to misogynistic or extremist ideologies online.

Staff should be aware that safeguarding concerns rarely occur in isolation and may overlap.

3.4 Child-on-Child Abuse, Harassment and Violence

All staff should be aware that children can abuse other children (often referred to as child-on-child abuse), and that it can happen both inside and outside of school or college and online. All staff have an important role to play in preventing it and responding where they believe a child may be at risk from it.

The Trust recognises that both the child harmed and the child displaying harmful behaviour may require safeguarding support and intervention. Responses will be child-centred, proportionate and informed by professional judgement. The Trust recognises that harmful sexual behaviour exists on a continuum and that all incidents involving the making or sharing of nude or semi-nude images, including AI-generated or digitally altered images, require careful assessment and an appropriate safeguarding response.

All staff should understand that even if there are no reports in their school it does not mean it is not happening. It may be the case that abuse is not being reported. As such it is important that when staff have any concerns regarding child-on-child abuse they should speak to their designated safeguarding lead (or a deputy).

It is essential that all staff understand the importance of challenging inappropriate behaviours between children that are abusive in nature. Examples of which are listed below. Downplaying certain behaviours, for example dismissing sexual harassment as “just banter”, “just having a laugh”, “part of growing up” or “boys being boys” can lead to a culture of unacceptable behaviours, an unsafe environment for children and in worst case scenarios a culture that normalises abuse leading to children accepting it as normal and not coming forward to report it. Our schools have a zero-tolerance approach to sexual violence and sexual harassment.

All staff recognise that children can and do abuse other children both inside and out of school and online and that procedures for dealing with child-on-child abuse are the same as those contained below in section 4. This includes staff proactively challenging inappropriate behaviours between children.

Child-on-child abuse is most likely to include, but may not be limited to:

- Bullying (including cyberbullying, prejudice-based and discriminatory bullying).
- Abuse in intimate personal relationships between children (sometimes known as ‘teenage relationship abuse’).

- physical abuse such as hitting, kicking, shaking, biting, hair pulling, or otherwise causing physical harm (this may include an online element which facilitates, threatens and/or encourages physical abuse).
- Sexual violence, such as rape, assault by penetration and sexual assault; (this may include an online element which facilitates, threatens and/or encourages sexual violence).
- Sexual harassment, such as sexual comments, remarks, jokes and online sexual harassment, which may be standalone or part of a broader pattern of abuse.
- Causing someone to engage in sexual activity without consent, such as forcing someone to strip, touch themselves sexually, or to engage in sexual activity with a third party.
- Consensual and non-consensual sharing of nude and semi-nude images and/or videos (also known as sexting or youth produced sexual imagery).
- Upskirting, which typically involves taking a picture under a person's clothing without their permission, with the intention of viewing their genitals or buttocks to obtain sexual gratification, or cause the victim humiliation, distress, or alarm, and
- initiation/hazing type violence and rituals (this could include activities involving harassment, abuse or humiliation used as a way of initiating a person into a group and may also include an online element).

Behaviours: age 0 to 5 All green, amber and red behaviours require some form of attention and response. It is the level of intervention that will vary.
What is a green behaviour? Green behaviours reflect safe and healthy sexual development. They are displayed between children or young people of similar age or developmental ability. They are reflective of natural curiosity, experimentation, consensual activities, and positive choices. What can you do? Green behaviours provide opportunities to give positive feedback and additional information. Green behaviours • holding or playing with own genitals • attempting to touch or curiosity about other children's genitals • attempting to touch or curiosity about breasts, bottoms or genitals of adults • games e.g. mummies and daddies, • doctors and nurses • enjoying nakedness • interest in body parts and what they do • curiosity about the differences between boys and girls	What is an amber behaviour? Amber behaviours have the potential to be outside of safe and healthy behaviour. They may be of potential concern due to age, or developmental differences. A potential concern due to activity type, frequency, duration, or context in which they occur. What can you do? Amber behaviours signal the need to take notice and gather information to assess the appropriate action. Amber behaviours • preoccupation with adult sexual • behaviour • pulling other children's pants down/skirts up/trousers down against their will • talking about sex using adult slang • preoccupation with touching the genitals of other people • following others into toilets or changing rooms to look at them or touch them • talking about sexual activities seen on TV/online	What is a red behaviour? Red behaviours are outside of safe and healthy behaviour. They may be excessive, secretive, compulsive, coercive, degrading or threatening and involving significant age, developmental or power differences. They may pose a concern due to the activity type, frequency, duration, or the context in which they occur. What can you do? Red behaviours indicate a need for immediate intervention and action. Red behaviours • persistently touching the genitals of other children • persistent attempts to touch the genitals of adults • simulation of sexual activity in play • sexual behaviour between young children involving penetration with objects • forcing other children to engage in sexual play
Behaviours: age 5 to 9 and 9 to 13 All green, amber and red behaviours require some form of attention and response. It is the level of intervention that will vary.

	• arranging a face to face meeting with an online contact alone	• sexual activity with family members • involvement in sexual exploitation and/or trafficking • sexual contact with animals • receipt of gifts or money in exchange for sex

The Sexual Offences Act 2003 defines 'consent' as 'if one agrees by choice and has the capacity to make that choice'. The Act, removes the element of consent for many sexual offences for:

- Children/young people under 16 (including under 13).
- Children/young people under 18 having sexual relations with a person of trust (for example: teachers, youth workers, foster carers, police officers).
- Children/young people under 18 involved with family members over 18.
- Persons with a mental disorder impeding choice or who are induced, threatened, or deceived.
- Persons with a mental disorder who have sexual relations with care workers.

In relation to young people under the age of 13, consent is irrelevant. The law says, 'a child under the age of 13 does not, under any circumstances, have the legal capacity to consent to any form of sexual activity'.

The Police must be informed immediately of any sexual activity involving a child under 13 years of age.

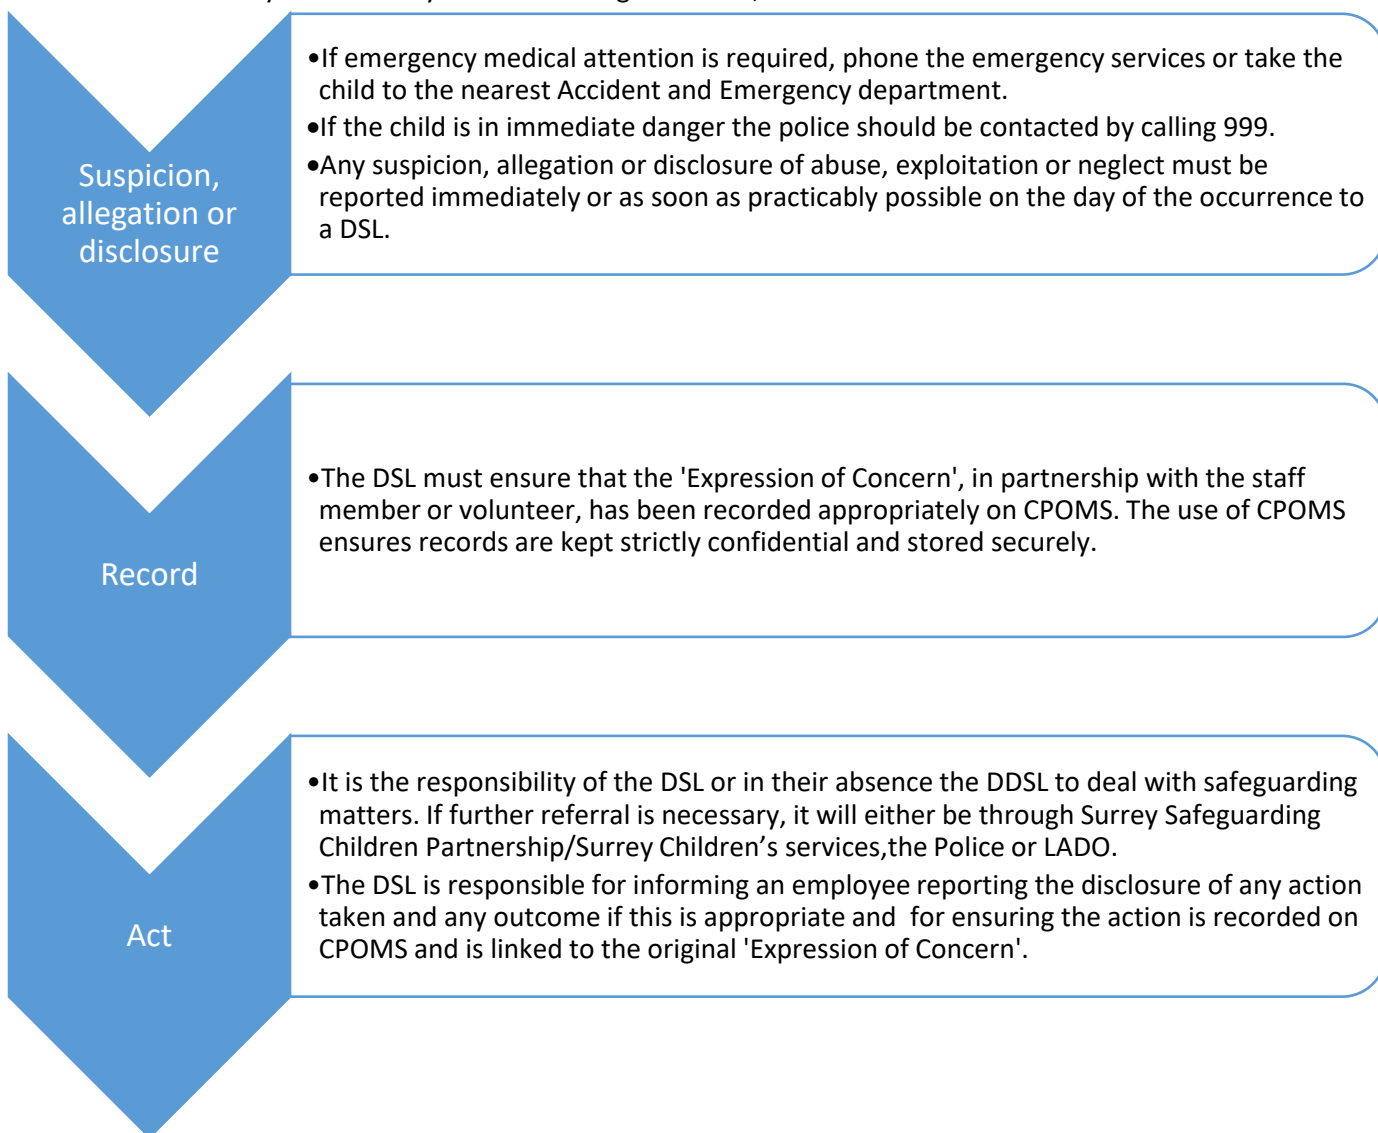

3.5 General safeguarding advice

- Remember not to be a young people's friend, always maintain a professional manner when working with them.
- Do not accept a young person as a friend on any social networking site that you use.

4. Reporting Procedures

In all cases it is vital to take every action which is needed to safeguard the child, children and young person(s).

Immediate action may be necessary in the following situations;

It is the responsibility of the DSL, to ensure any partner agencies involved with the young person are made aware of the disclosure and the action taken where relevant and where information sharing guidance permits this.

It is important to remember that often only when information held by several workers is put together, that a picture of child abuse emerges. All staff & volunteers must adhere to the information sharing protocol published by HM Government, adopted by the Children's Trust, and endorsed by SSCP. Details can be found here; Information sharing: advice for practitioners \(publishing.service.gov.uk\). In addition to this, whilst respecting cultural differences, the basic requirement for children is that they are kept safe across social, ethnic, and cultural boundaries.

4.1 Responding to a disclosure

If the child or young person is not in immediate danger or requires immediate medical attention, contact the School's DSL or one of the DDSL's as soon as practical.

4.2 Other helpful contacts

Children's Single Point of Access (C-SPA), a front door to Surrey County Council services for children, provides residents and people who work with children in Surrey with direct information, advice and guidance about where and how to find the appropriate support for children and families.

4.3 Reacting to a disclosure

- Listen carefully rather than asking leading questions.
- Never promise any particular action or NOT to disclose any information shared.
- Allow silence and/or allow child, young person to be upset.
- Try to relate to the age, understanding or special needs of the child or young person.

- Record the information you have been given (on CPOMS) as soon as possible, preferably within 24 hours and only including what you have been told.
- Discuss this as soon as possible with the DSL.
- Any decision not to tell the parents must be discussed with the DSL unless the child or young person is in immediate danger.

4.4 Record Keeping

- Keep a record of any concern using the child's own language. Make sure it is a clear and comprehensive summary of the concern
- Always keep a record of any text or email exchanges with a young person (staff will use work telephones where available).
- Always be aware that your comments or actions may be perceived differently than intended, so be sensitive to the situation.
- Do not meet a young person alone, this is for the safety and well-being of the young person but also yourself. Where this is necessary, try to use public spaces for one-to-one meetings if you are not meeting in the school premises.
- Avoid detailed discussions about your personal experiences e.g. drugs, alcohol, sex.
- Never speak to the press about a child or young person without permission from the Head Teacher.

All concerns, discussions and decisions made, and the reasons for those decisions, must be recorded in writing. Records should include a clear and comprehensive summary of the concern, details of how the concern was followed up and resolved, and a note of any action taken, decisions reached and the outcome. Records must be kept confidential and stored securely. Child protection files should be transferred to a new school or college as soon as possible, and within five days for in-year transfers. The DSL should ensure that key staff in the receiving school are aware of the safeguarding needs of the child. It is for DSL and school leaders to make sure that the victim's wishes are balanced against the responsibility to protect other children and the wider school community. This will vary on a case-by-case basis.

4.5 Guidance for child-on-child abuse within school

This is a difficult balancing act to consider, on one hand safeguarding the victim and wider student body, and on the other hand providing the alleged perpetrator an education, safeguarding support and any disciplinary action. These can, and should, occur at the same time if necessary.

Consider the proportionality of the response and that the victim and perpetrator should be kept apart on school premises, including before and after school activities and school transport. It should be communicated clearly to victims that the law is there to protect them, not criminalise them.

Social media is likely to play a central role in the fallout from any incident or alleged incident.

Intra-familial harms can and do occur and support for siblings is crucial – again on a case-by-case basis.

Regular reviews of actions taken should be initiated to review policy and lessons learned. Patterns of concerning, problematic or inappropriate behaviour should be identified and addressed and a suitable course of action chosen.

The fact that another body is investigating or has investigated an incident does not in itself prevent a school from coming to its own conclusion, on the balance of probabilities, about what happened, and imposing a penalty accordingly. This is a matter for the school and should be carefully considered on a case-by-case basis. The designated safeguarding lead (or a deputy) should take a leading role. The school should consider if, by taking any action, it would prejudice an investigation and/or any subsequent prosecution.

Actions should be regularly reviewed and liaison with outside bodies and support sought and recorded.

4.6 Parents/ carers

It is good practice to be as open and honest as possible with parents/carers about any concerns. However, you must not discuss your concerns with parent's/carers in the following circumstances:

- Where sexual abuse or exploitation is suspected.
- Where organised or multiple abuse is suspected.
- Where fabricated or induced illness is suspected.
- Where female genital mutilation is a concern.
- In cases of forced marriage.
- Where contacting parents/carers would place a child or others at immediate risk.

4.7 Finding a Solution Together (FaST process)

Effective working together depends upon an open approach and honest relationships between agencies and a belief in genuine partnership working. Any disputes about the safety and well-being of a child should be resolved in a timely way with all agencies working together in the best interests of the child so that the welfare of the child remains paramount.

Partners should recognise that complexity of need and range of intervention/support will not always fit into a simple formula that leads to 'the right solution'. Often there may be no right or wrong answer and quite legitimately practitioners may exercise their professional judgement differently. It is also the case that exceptionally, the needs of some young people and families may not easily fit within a conventional application of thresholds. The purpose of the SSCP Finding a Solution Together (FaST process) is to create a transparent process that enables multi-agency practitioners to exercise their professional judgement and provide the best possible service in a timely and safe way.

It is of vital importance that children; young people and their families do not become entangled in professional disagreements. Neither should disputes detract from the focus on the child, delay effective decision making, nor lead to protracted disputes that negatively impact upon the child and/or family and on inter-agency relationships and working practice. In reaching resolution, it is always essential that disputes are approached in a considerate manner and one which both respects and seeks to understand the views and concerns of others from their experience and perspective when engaging with the young person/family.

The detailed policy can be accessed here: The Surrey FaST Resolution Process | Surrey Safeguarding Children Partnership \(procedures.org.uk\)

5. Allegations Made Against Staff, Volunteers, Contractors, Organisations or Individuals using the school premises

When any form of complaint is made against an employee, volunteer or contractor, organisation or individual using the school premises, it must be taken seriously. The complaint should initially be dealt with by the Head Teacher or the most senior staff member on site at the time the complaint is made if the Head Teacher is not available. If the complaint is against the most senior member of staff on site, then the CEO must be contacted using the following email ceo@enlightenlt.education. If the complaint is about the CEO, then the chair of Trustees must be contacted using the following email hcoulson@enlightenlt.education.

The senior staff member must report the complaint immediately to the Headteacher and the DSL giving details of the circumstances. The Headteacher, DSL, CEO or Chair of Trustees may contact the Local Authority Designated Officer. Further information can be found in Part Four of KCSIE and here: Managing allegations against people that work or volunteer with children | Surrey Safeguarding Children Partnership \(procedures.org.uk\). They will attend the site of the allegation to gain an initial account of what has occurred from all relevant parties, including the person against whom the allegation has been made. If this is not possible, contact will be made by telephone. The Trust reserves the right to suspend from duty and/or the premises, any person who is a party to the allegation until a full investigation has been made.

This action does not imply in any way that the person suspended is responsible or is to blame for any action leading up to the complaint. The purpose of any such suspension is to enable a full and proper investigation to be carried out in a professional manner.

It is the responsibility of the Head Teacher, DSL, CEO, or the Chair of Trustees to make the decision as to whether to inform Social Services and/or the Police Child Protection Unit, depending on the nature of the allegation. In matters of allegations against staff, volunteers, organisations, or individuals using the school premises working with children, information must be provided to the Local Authority Designated Officer.

5.1 Low Level Concerns

(refer to the Code of Conduct/Staff Behaviour Policy for further information)

The Trust promotes a culture of openness, trust and transparency in which the values and expected behaviour set out in the staff code of conduct are lived, monitored and reinforced. All staff are encouraged to report any low-level concerns about adults working in or on behalf of the school, including supply staff, volunteers and contractors. A low-level concern is any concern that an adult may have acted in a way that is inconsistent with the staff code of conduct, even if not serious enough to meet the harm threshold. Such concerns should be reported to the Headteacher and recorded in writing. The Headteacher will review records to identify any patterns and take appropriate action. Records of low-level concerns should be retained securely and confidentially at least until the individual leaves their employment.

Members of staff are able to identify concerns relating to the safety and welfare of children at an early stage, allowing for prompt investigation and intervention preventing concerns from escalating. It is vitally important that, if staff have any safeguarding concerns, however small, and even in no more than causing a sense of unease or 'nagging doubt' or if an allegation is made about another member of staff, this is referred to the Head Teacher promptly (or to the CEO in respect of the Head Teacher; or to the Chair of Trustees in respect of the CEO). We also encourage staff to self-refer in circumstances where, for example, they have found themselves in a situation which:

- Could be misinterpreted.
- Might appear compromising to others.
- On reflection they believe they may have behaved in such a way that they consider falls below the expected professional standards.

Examples of such behaviour could include, but are not limited to:

- Being over friendly with children.
- Having favourites.
- Taking photographs of children on their mobile phone.
- Engaging with a child on a one-to-one basis in a secluded area or behind a closed door.
- Humiliating children.

Procedure

- Tell the Head Teacher in all circumstances.

- If the concern has been raised via a third party, the Head Teacher should collect as much evidence as possible by speaking:
 - directly to the person who raised the concern, unless it has been raised anonymously, and
 - to the individual involved and any witnesses.
- The information collected will help them to categorise the type of behaviour and determine what further action may need to be taken. This information needs to be recorded in writing along with the rationale for their decisions and action taken on the low-level concerns spreadsheet held within the confidential and secure HT HR area on Teams. The Head Teacher will monitor the spreadsheet in conjunction with HR and where patterns of low-level concerns are emerging will follow the procedure for managing allegations above.
- If there is any doubt as to whether the information which has been shared about a member of staff as a low-level concern in fact meets the harm threshold, the Head Teacher should consult with the LADO.

Low-level concerns to reviewed half-termly by the DSL and included as part of the safeguarding governor's termly monitoring.

6. Confidentiality And Whistle Blowing

The Trust has a proportionate and careful approach to confidentiality. The safety and welfare of a child or young person is paramount: concerns raised with an adult must be shared appropriately and from then on people will be informed of the situation on a need-to-know basis.

Any staff or volunteers with concerns about anybody providing services to children and young people should report this to their Line Manager, DSL, CEO or trustee board member as appropriate. They will be fully supported throughout the process.

The Trust recognises that effective safeguarding depends on appropriate information sharing. Staff have a duty to share information where necessary to safeguard and promote the welfare of children. Information sharing must be lawful, proportionate, necessary and secure. The Data Protection Act 2018, UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR) and Data (Use and Access) Act 2025 do not prevent the sharing of information where failing to do so would place a child at risk of harm.

All staff must be aware that they cannot promise a child that they will keep secrets/not disclose potentially harmful information.

7. Safer Recruitment Policy Statement

The Trust will review recruitment arrangements in line with KCSIE 2026 requirements relating to:

- volunteers;
- trainee teachers;
- work experience placements;
- agency and supply staff;
- regulated activity;
- duty to refer obligations.

Appropriate online searches will continue to be undertaken for shortlisted candidates and all recruitment decisions will be assessed through a safeguarding lens.

The Trust will ensure that all recruitment practices comply with Part Three of Keeping Children Safe in Education 2026. This includes verifying a candidate's identity, obtaining an enhanced DBS check with children's barred list information where appropriate, verifying mental and physical fitness, right to work in the UK, and professional qualifications. References must be obtained prior to interview where possible and should be scrutinised for any concerns. All offers of employment are conditional upon satisfactory completion of pre-employment checks. The single central record must be maintained and include all required information for staff, volunteers, supply staff and members of the proprietor body.

The purpose of safer recruitment is to ensure:

- Applicants who may wish to harm, children or young people are deterred from applying for jobs or volunteering opportunities.
- Any unsuitable applicants are rejected by scrutinising applications and exploring potential areas for concern at interview.
- Unsuitable appointments are not made by having at least one member of the interview panel trained in safer recruitment; carrying out all relevant pre-employment checks* and ensuring all new staff and volunteers are given an appropriate induction.
- We identify and manage any identified risks.
- We maintain a safe and vigilant culture.

*Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) Checks

All new staff and volunteers are to have a DBS check before commencing employment. Any failure to disclose convictions may result in disciplinary action or dismissal. Any positive disclosures will be discussed with the Head Teacher, DSL, CEO and/or trustees. All this information will be kept on the personnel file. The DBS number and date of processing will be held on a secure database. A risk assessment will be completed if there is a positive DBS check sent back.

8. Additional Relevant Policies/ Procedures

This safeguarding policy should be read alongside our organisational policies (generally available on The Trust website and individual school websites), procedures, guidance and other related documents as well as Keeping Children Safe in Education.

8.2 Use of School Premises by External Organisations

Where school premises are used by external providers, community groups, sports organisations, tuition providers or other third parties, appropriate safeguarding assurance must be obtained before use is approved.

This should include:

- safeguarding and child protection arrangements;
- supervision arrangements;
- DBS requirements where relevant;
- conduct expectations;
- procedures for reporting safeguarding concerns;
- allegations management arrangements.

Schools remain responsible for ensuring safeguarding arrangements are appropriate when activities involve children on school premises.

Appendix 2 –Visiting Speaker Protocol

1. Purpose

To ensure that all visiting speakers to the school provide educational value, uphold the school's ethos, and comply with safeguarding and health & safety regulations.

2. Planning and Approval

- Staff Responsibility: The staff member inviting the speaker must complete a Speaker Request Form at least 2 weeks in advance.
- Approval: The form must be reviewed and approved by the Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL) and a member of the Senior Leadership Team (SLT).
- Content Review: A brief outline of the speaker's content must be submitted for review to ensure it is age-appropriate and aligns with school values.

3. Safeguarding and Conduct

- ID Verification: All speakers must present valid photo ID upon arrival.
- Supervision: A member of staff must be present throughout the visit.
- Safeguarding Briefing: Speakers will be given a short safeguarding briefing upon arrival, including how to report concerns.
- Code of Conduct: Speakers must agree to the school's code of conduct and safeguarding policies.

4. Logistics and Safety

- Arrival and Departure: Speakers must sign in and out at reception.
- Emergency Procedures: Speakers will be informed of fire exits and emergency protocols.
- Accessibility: Ensure any special requirements (e.g. AV equipment, accessibility needs) are arranged in advance.

5. Evaluation and Feedback

- Staff Feedback: If requested the supervising staff member will complete a short evaluation form after the session.
- Student Feedback: Optional student feedback may be collected to assess engagement and impact.
- Record Keeping: All documentation will be stored securely for future reference.

6. Prohibited Content

Speakers must not:

- Promote political, religious, or ideological agendas.
- Use discriminatory, offensive, or inappropriate language.
- Share personal contact details with students.

7. Breach of Protocol

Any breach of this protocol may result in the speaker being asked to leave and may affect future invitations.

Appendix 3 - Risk Assessment: Pupils Being Drawn into Terrorism or Supporting Extremist Ideas

1. Context and Background

Schools have a statutory duty under the Counter Terrorism and Security Act 2015 to prevent pupils from being drawn into terrorism. This includes safeguarding against radicalisation and supporting pupils who may be vulnerable to extremist ideologies.

2. Risk Identification

Risk Area	Description
Online Radicalisation	Pupils may access extremist content via social media, forums, or encrypted messaging apps.
Peer Influence	Pupils may be influenced by peers who express extremist views or share radical content.
Community Tensions	Local or global events may heighten tensions and increase susceptibility to extremist narratives.
Identity and belonging	Pupils struggling with identity, discrimination, or isolation may be more vulnerable to radicalisation.
Unsupervised Spaces	Areas with limited adult supervision (e.g., online platforms, after-school clubs) may pose risks.

3. Risk Assessment

Risk	Likelihood	Impact	Overall Risk Level
Online exposure to extremist content	Medium	High	High
Peer-led radicalisation	Low	Medium	Medium
Influence from family/community	Medium	Medium	Medium
Lack of staff awareness/training	Medium	High	High
Pupils feeling isolated or marginalised	Medium	High	High

4. Mitigation Measures

- Staff Training: Regular training on Prevent Duty, safeguarding, and recognising signs of radicalisation.
- Curriculum Integration: Promote British values, critical thinking, and digital literacy through PSHE and other subjects.
- Online Safety: Implement robust filtering and monitoring systems; educate pupils on safe internet use.
- Safeguarding Procedures: Clear referral pathways for concerns; designated safeguarding leads trained in Prevent.
- Engagement with Families: Build trust and communication with parents/carers to support early intervention.
- Safe Spaces for Dialogue: Encourage open discussions about identity, beliefs, and current events in a respectful environment.

5. Monitoring and Review

- Regular Audits: Review policies and procedures annually or after significant incidents.
- Incident Reporting: Maintain logs of concerns and actions taken.
- Pupil Voice: Use surveys and forums to understand pupil perspectives and concerns.
- External Partnerships: Collaborate with local authorities, police, and community organisations.

6. Conclusion

This risk assessment is designed to support schools in creating a safe, inclusive environment where pupils are protected from radicalisation and extremist influences. It should be reviewed regularly and adapted to reflect changes in the school community or wider societal context.
